INFORMATION

According to Chapter 3, Section 7 of the Public Order Act (1993:1617), pyrotechnic products may not be used without a permit from the Swedish Police Authority, if their use, in view of the time, location of the site and other circumstances, entails a risk of injury or damage or considerable inconvenience to any person or property. Chapter 2, Section 20 of the Public Order Act specifies that pyrotechnic products may not be used without a permit from the Swedish Police Authority at a public gathering or public event held indoors. However, if it can be done without compromising order and safety, the Swedish Police Authority may release the organizer from the obligation to apply for a permit.

In accordance with Chapter 2, Section 16 of the Public Order Act, the organizer is primarily responsible for proper order at the gathering or event. This means that the organizer is also responsible for any fireworks, stage fireworks or other pyrotechnics being used in a secure and safe manner. If the organizer appoints a specific person to be responsible for pyrotechnic products, there is nevertheless a responsibility for the organizer to ensure that such a person possesses the competence required for the task.
